	fense Attache Course 2-presentation was arr	anged at the request of	HB/ICS. This cutive attache course t sort of presentation	. The plan was for	to man source intelligence munity were attempting to be followed by a par	nel discussion involving

- covered: an explanation of the DCI's role in management of the intelligence community; foreign affairs community relationships with the intelligence community; service attache contributions to national intelligence collection at Washington and at the embassy level; problems of analyst/producer-collector interface and efforts to close gaps; and the increasing importance of HUMINT collection in the next decade.
- Following remarks, our discussions ranged over the following topics: effectiveness of human source reporting during the Arab-Israeli war: importance of intentions reporting vs capabilities reporting; communications problems among analysts and between users/analysts and overseas collectors; modern management (objectives) techniques for intelligence (students observed we've the same old problems).
- 4. A roster of the class is attached. It should be noted that was present.
- 5. The session was constructive. Clearly there's much going on in the intelligence community these gentlemen are not aware of. The questions asked were meaningful and reflected important issues of a practical character.
